

What makes AVR Associates different?

...array of tools and our eclectic collection of experience to optimize your solution.

AVR Associates is different from other Management and Consulting organizations because of our ability to rigorously apply an array of tools and our eclectic collection of experience to optimize your solution. We work with your people to focus on your organization's business success. We want to emphasize that you are the experts in running your business. We are the experts with the tools to help you make the necessary changes.

There are numerous documented examples of organizations the espoused great visions and failed to EXECUTE. The application of the tools not only help us to identify the root causes of an issue, but point to the methodology that best results in a timely resolution.

...significant, but not sufficientsm ...

We believe that there are numerous tools available that by themselves are significant; however we also believe that no one tool is sufficient. The most optimal results are obtained when more aspects of the environment surrounding an issue are addressed. Our integrated approach provides for the use of "the right combination of tools for the job". Our expertise embraces the following general areas:

Portfolio Management

Portfolio Management to focus on:

- Maximizing the value of the portfolio
- Have the right balance of risk
- Assure alignment with your strategic initiatives
- Undertake the right number and the right priority projects based on the available resources.

Six Sigma

Six Sigma to bring:

- A reliance on data to guide the decision making process
- Rigor and measurement to track the implementation and successes

Project Management

Project Management to:

- Provide a plan to facilitate the timely implementation
- Maintain and awareness and visibility of the costs involved

Management of Change

Management of Change to:

- To facilitate the emotional transition of change
- To facilitate an environment that releases the creativity of your people.

And more...

And other tools and techniques when appropriate

... roll up our sleeves and get involved.

We want to be invited to “roll up our sleeves and get involved”. We have the experience to get in the trenches and help get the work done, to teach while doing, not manage from the conference room.

...the power of the people...

We believe in the power of the people in an organization. Our approach is to help foster an open and honest communication that allows trust to develop and releases the intellectual capital the people involved. The processes stimulate productivity and innovation.

We want to help plant the seeds and tools that will help the organization sustain itself into the future.

Our ultimate goal is to Accelerate your Visions to Reality.
