ACCELERATING VISIONS TO REALITYSM

...support strategic and tactical needs.

Organizations are facing the challenge of responding to increasing market pressures and the need for successful implementation of innovative solutions to meet customer demands and global competition.

Accelerating Visions to RealitySM (AVR) offers integrated approaches and extensive experience to quickly develop realistic, practical solutions to support strategic and tactical needs.

environment of honesty and trust.*

We draw on the appropriate aspects of proven processes to create an integrated solution to accelerate the translation of a vision to a reality through effective execution. Our approach puts people first as the key asset of an organization by ensuring effective communication and involvement in setting the goals and creating the plans for the implementation of change in an environment of honesty and trust. Next we apply the discipline and rigor of a business plan, project management and portfolio management to achieve the business goals in a planned, predictable, efficient manner. Finally we draw on the time tested, proven tools of Six Sigma and Project Management to facilitate the clear definition of the desired change with a measurable outcome.

business
improvements...*

Our clients will be able to execute the business improvements to achieve their strategic visions in a timely manner with the assistance of AVR.

Specifically, we will:

...sustain gains...

- Work with our clients to develop realistic and achievable plans and processes to reach the desired outcomes and improved profitability more quickly.
- Enable the client to learn the processes and to measure and sustain the gains in the future.
- Apply the holistic approach of integrating people and processes that will lead to improved productivity and innovation by freeing the people to perform at a higher level.

This approach has been shown to produce the following results:

*...increases in

... value and satisfaction...

- More efficient use of resources allowing more to be done with less effort and better results.
- Significant increases in profitability with the early implementation of improved internal business processes, services, and/or products.
- Appropriate executive and customer involvement results in more value and satisfaction being created for all involved.

We look forward to working with you to Accelerate your Visions to Realitysm!
